Overview

Impact is an award-winning, world-leading experiential learning company. Since 1980, we have worked with organisations to develop leadership capacity and catalyse change.

The Digital Design and Development Team at Impact work in partnership with organisations to solve impactful business problems. We are an eclectic creative team; we share a passion for combining deliberate design with innovative technology to create engaging and purposeful user experiences.

Key objectives

The PHP developer will be part of the Digital Design and Development Team working with other developers and digital designers on our virtual experiential learning platforms.

Key requirements we are looking for in a PHP Developer:

- Three years of professional PHP development experience, including working with databases such as MySQL, ideally in an agile development team
- Experience with Javascript and REACT
- Experience in troubleshooting and writing automated tests
- Experience developing for Drupal or a similar CMS
- Understanding accessibility and security compliance
- Understanding fundamental design principles behind scalable applications
- Comfortable working with code versioning tools, such as Git
- Excellent communication skills and being able to work independently or in a team
- Willingness to put your team first and contribute where necessary to get the job done
